

Rüdiger Raue, Dr. med. vet., FTA für Virologie

Experience

Associate Director, External Innovation, at Zoetis Belgium SA
Responsible for external innovation and research alliances in Europe
March 2016 - today

Associate Director at Zoetis Belgium SA (formerly Pfizer Animal Health)
Head of the EU Analytical Sciences group
March 2011 - February 2016

Senior Principle Scientist at Pfizer Animal Health
Deputy Head of the EU BDev Analytical group, project team leader, analytical project representative
2010 - February 2011

Principal Scientist at Pfizer Animal Health
Deputy Head of the EU Analytical group, project team leader, analytical project representative 2006 - 2010

Senior Scientist at Randstad for Pfizer Animal Health
Analytical project representative
2005 - 2006

Wissenschaftlicher Mitarbeiter and Wissenschaftlicher Assistant (Post Doc) at University of Leipzig, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Institute for Virology
Leader of the IBDV research team, virus diagnostic and teaching
1999 - 2004

Doktorand (PhD student) at Free University of Berlin, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Institute for Poultry Diseases
Dr. med. vet. (PhD equivalent) in the area of poultry virology
1996 – 1999

Higher Education

Free University of Berlin, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine
Veterinarian (DVM)
1990 - 1996

Other Certifications

Certified Veterinarian Specialist for Virology
University of Leipzig, Germany, 2003

Certified qualification in molecular biology
University of Leipzig, Germany, 2004

Certified qualification in genetic engineering in animals
University of Leipzig, Germany, 2004

§ 15 GenTSV: Sachkundenachweis "Projektleiter und Beauftragter für biologische Sicherheit" (German qualification to work with genetically modified organisms)

